Remember, Live,

and Dream...

We Remember

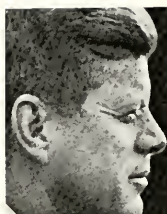

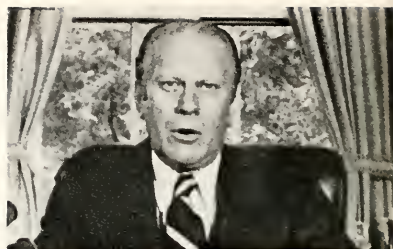

(above, left to right)
Janice Ball gets a kiss.
The Slug Trail Gang is reminiscing.
(Julie Ansell, Marissa Saunders, Karen Holton)
Tim Hamrick and Paula Webster get funky.
A typical freshman after his first Dr. Grayson test.

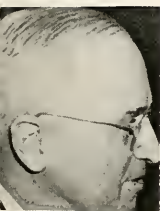

The Past...

The "Big Apple" in the dark — the blackout of '77.
Woosh!

*Memories haunt my mind of our early years,
This time that seemed so long ago —
So many, many years.
The things that are in the past
Have helped to shape our lives.
It seems to me an endless struggle,
For perfection we all strive.
All the friends that I have made
Have touched me deep inside.
When I think of yesterday
And the things I should have done,
I know there is today,
And things have just begun.*

Today is such a simple word,
One often taken for granted.

But to me it is a time
For seeds to be planted.

There are many things to do,
So many places to go,

And before we know it
Friendships start to grow.

Growing isn't easy —
No one said it was.

Just pull your chin up,
And keep on trucking

And all the finest things in life
Are the ones that you won't miss.

So today if I forgot to walk
In someone else's shoes,

To laugh with them in joy,
And help them when they're blue,

To smile at someone or hug a loving friend,
Then I can be sure that there's a tomorrow

For remembering again.

We Live Today...

(above, left to right)
The Great Tatoo takes a day off with his son.

(Dr. Barnes Tatum and Chris)

"You want me to do what?"

(Sherril Williams)

Tonight Paddington, tomorrow Winnie-the-Pooh.

(Laura Moog)

"Oh waiter, table for two please."

(Bet Yancey, Sharon Finger)

(above, left to right)

The Dynamic duo.

(Julie Ansell, Barb Zeltner)

"We deliver FTD."

(Nancy Hardy, Carol Fenton)

The next Suzy Homemaker.

(Don Guy)

"Simon says fold your arms!"

(Sherrill Williams, Cheryl Hayes, Marianne Lamprecht, June Stewart)

(right and below, left to right)
 Oh, Baby!
 (Ms. Matty)
 G.C. Muppets.
 (Billie Armstrong, Patty Page,
 Julie Tucker, Mary Kay Smith)
 Clownin' around again.
 (Jill Wynkoop)
 "Hey, could someone lower the mike?"
 (Terry Healy)
 "Charmin is squeezably soft."
 (Linda Stager)

(left and below, left to right)
 "Are my dentures on straight?"
 (Debbie Shannon)

"Did someone say party?"
 (Robin Matt)

"You mean this isn't a costume party?"
 (Julia East, Laureen Moretz)

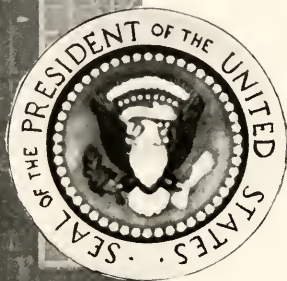

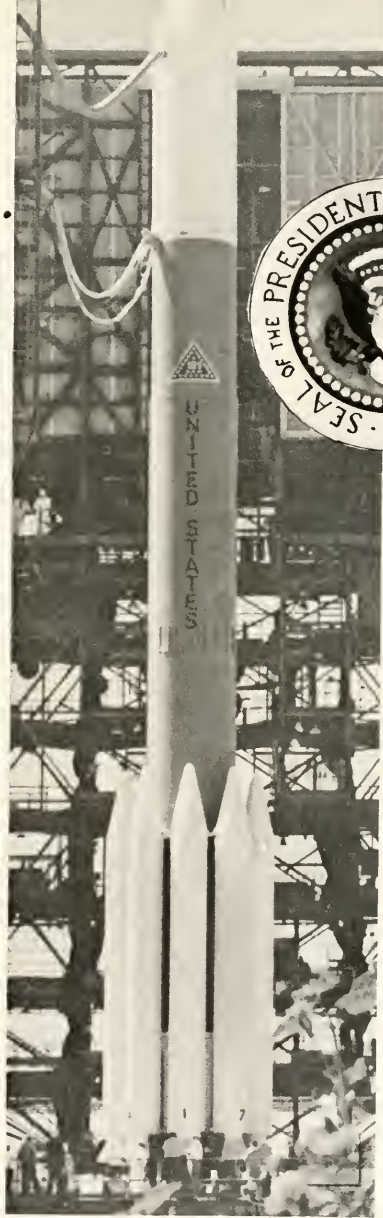

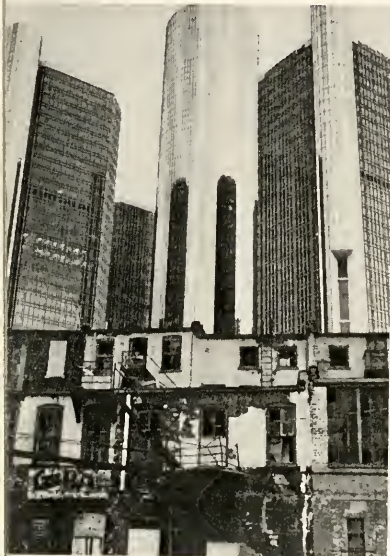

Bottoms up, boys!
 (Daryl Rumpel, Mike Schilling, Joey Morris)
 "We're the hood ornaments."
 (Julie Ansell, Lori Ebinger)

We Dream The Future...

*My life rushes on ahead of me,
There is so much left to see,
So many things to do,
So much left for me.
I want to explore, to be
To laugh, to cry.
There is so much more above me*

*Than just the bright blue sky.
I have really had some good times,
But there will be more,
For my goal is not the sun and moon,
I'm reaching for the stars.*

— Laura Moog

Echo
Dedication

The 1979-80 Echo is dedicated to Dr. John H. Long who has given years of service to Greensboro College and its students. Through his love for Shakespeare, Milton, Chaucer, and life we have gained many insights into ourselves.

1976

As the prospective members of G.C.'s Class of 1980 are approaching their high school graduation ceremonies, Premier Chou En-lai dies in China, an earthquake kills 22,000 in Guatemala, kidnap victim Patricia Hearst is convicted of bank robbery, and President Gerald Ford signs a bill for the mass immunization against swine flu. In Boston thousands march to protest antibusing violence. One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest is the winner of four Academy Awards.

Soon after high school is out, Fidel Castro agrees to withdraw Cuban troops from Angola (newly liberated from Portugal). The British-French Concorde supersonic jet begins flights to Dulles Airport in Washington, D.C. Earthquakes next hit China, killing hundreds of thousands of people ... During an exciting summer, bloody rioting in Soweto, South Africa, erupts on the same day that the U.S. Ambassador is killed in Lebanon. Israeli commandos rescue 103 hostages from Palestinian guerrillas at Uganda's Entebbe Airport ... The United States climaxes its celebration of its 200th birthday with a "Parade of Tall Ships" in New York Harbor and a visit from Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain. Montreal hosts the Summer Olympics. Vikings 1 and 2 send pictures from the surface of Mars. A mystery illness kills 29 Legionnaires in Philadelphia. President Ford narrowly defeats Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination. The death of Mao Tse-tung introduces a new era in China. The Cincinnati Reds defeat the N.Y. Yankees to take their second World Series in a row. North and South Vietnam officially reunite after years of war. Jimmy Carter is elected President of the United States. Syria's peacekeeping troops occupy Lebanon, ending a civil war between Moslems and Christians. OPEC announces an oil price hike. Chicago's Mayor Daley dies of a heart attack.

In the world of entertainment, All the President's Men, story of the uncovering of the Watergate coverup, proves to be the most profitable film. But this is tame fare for a bunch who grew up with The Godfather, The Exorcist, The Towering Inferno, and Jaws! Former Beatle Paul McCartney, along with band Wings, tours U.S. for first time in 10 years. Barry Manilow, Peter Frampton, and Captain and Tennille emerge as pop music superstars, while Waylon Jennings and Willie Nelson represent a new direction, "progressive country."

Episcopalians begin the year 1977 by ordaining their first woman priest. Gary Gilmore is the first criminal to be executed in the U.S. in 10 years. President Carter meets with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo, and Canadian Prime Minister Elliott Trudeau addresses the U.S. Congress. The use of the artificial sweetener saccharin is banned by the Food and Drug Administration.

Before the Class of 1980 enters its sophomore year at G.C., Carter begins withdrawal of troops from South Korea, Leonid I. Brezhnev is elected president of the U.S.S.R., Menachem Begin becomes Prime Minister of Israel, Rosalynn Carter tours Latin America, the trans-Alaska pipeline opens, and the "Koreagate" investigation begins. Canada's Province of Quebec makes French its prime language, U.S. pact with Panamanians gives them control of the Canal by the year 2000. President Carter addresses the U.N. General Assembly on disarmament and nuclear control, and accuses the oil industries of capitalizing on the energy crisis. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat makes a first-ever trip to Israel, causing six Arab leaders to charge "high treason." In Washington, D.C., farmers demonstrate against low prices for crops. Indira Gandhi resigns as prime minister of India. U.S. Senate adopts a strict code of ethics. The Department of Energy is created, the 12th Cabinet post. U.S. steel industry is ailing.

The deaths of rock-and-roll superstar Elvis Presley, crooner Bing Crosby, and comedian Charlie Chaplin shock the nation. Kiss — an outrageously costumed, heavy-rock group — produces three top-selling albums with million dollar electronic equipment. Fleetwood Mac, composed of both Britons and Americans, and Donna Summer, who started her career in Germany, also are big stars. The space extravaganza Star Wars promises to break Jaws' attendance record at theaters. Rocky, story of a boxer, wins best-picture Oscar. Dallas defeats Denver, 27-10, for the National Football Conference's first Super Bowl triumph since Dallas beat Miami in 1972.

Radioactive debris from a Russian satellite is found in Canada. The Midwest and New England are buried by raging blizzards. Senator Hubert Humphrey dies of cancer. Demonstrators delay opening of the Tokyo airport. China signs a five-year trade pact with the European Common Market. U.S. retirement age is raised from 65 to 70. Cambodia is the "worst violator of human rights in the world," says Carter. Riots sweep Iran as Muslims protest the Shah's modernization policies. First class postage rises from 13 to 15 cents. U.S. readies a spacecraft to orbit Venus. Atlantic City, N.J., opens a legal gambling casino.

Summer records two firsts: A baby conceived in a test-tube is born in England, and three Americans make transatlantic balloon crossing. Camp David summit talks between Carter, Sadat, and Begin lead to a treaty ending 31 years of war in the Mideast. Sadat and Begin are awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. Muhammad Ali defeats Leon Spinks to gain his third heavyweight championship. After two Popes die suddenly, John Paul II, a Pole, is elected. U.S. Senate extends deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment until 1982. China invades Vietnam, and later Vietnam invades Cambodia.

Firestone Rubber Co. recalls 13 million tires. U.S. Rep. Leo J. Ryan is killed in Guyana by members of the People's Temple cult; 911 then die in a mass suicide-murder. San Francisco's mayor and a city supervisor are assassinated. Golda Meir dies in Israel.

A motion picture set in a disco palace, Saturday Night Fever, receives top earnings for the year, while Animal House spoofs college vulgarities of the 1960's. The Deer Hunter, about the Vietnam war, wins an Oscar as the best picture. The Bee Gees are the most successful pop musicians.

Bruce Springsteen and Billy Joel produce platinum albums (one million copies). President Carter sponsors a history of jazz concert with 30 artists on the White House lawn.

DES MOINES, Iowa — California-Stanislaus won the NCAA Division III golf championship Friday by 21 shots, but the champs weren't the only winners in the final of four rounds.

Greensboro College, ninth entering the final round, sizzled to an even-par 288 team total for the day and breezed from ninth to a fifth-place windup with a four-day total of 1,200, 44 back.

Ramapo finished second with a 1,177 total, 10 ahead of Allegheny, while Capital finished at 1,196, four ahead of GC.

"We're on Cloud Nine," said Coach Jim Locke happily. "Just tickled pink. It's an honor not only for our golf team but our school and the community."

After Thursday's third round, the Hornets got together with Locke and promised they would do better than they had previously.

"They said they were going to shoot a par round, but I figured they were just blowing smoke," the coach said.

But they weren't. Pat Hayes and Andy McMurray shot two-under-par 70s; Tim Searcy shot 71 and Dino DeAngelis shot a 77.

The fifth team member, Keith McClintock, shot a non-counting 79.

For his efforts, McMurray was selected to the Division III's second team. His 293 total left him seven shots off the winning total of 286 turned in by Stanislaus' Mike Bender, who shot 70-286. That beat by three strokes Ramapo's Jeff Thomas. Sam Martin of Lynchburg and Mike McEntee of Stanislaus tied for third at 290.

The Honorable Shirley Chisholm is the senior Democratic woman in the U.S. House of Representatives. She is the only woman — and only Black American — to sit on the powerful House Rules Committee.

Mrs. Chisholm is a specialist in early childhood education and child welfare who entered public service in 1964, when she ran successfully for the New York State Assembly. In 1971, Mrs. Chisholm won a spot on the House Education and Labor Committee, where she served for six years. She is currently a ranking member of the prestigious and powerful House Rules Committee.

In 1972, Congressman William Shirley Chisholm took another step and ran for President: the first Black woman to seek the nation's highest office. Although she lost, her name, her ideals, and her commitment became imbedded in America's consciousness.

She earned a B.A. degree (Cum Laude) and both an M.A. in Education and diploma in Administration from Columbia University. She is a member of the League of Women Voters, NAACP, National Association of College Women, and the National Advisory Council for the Institute for Studies in Education, among others.

The Senior Class wishes to express its appreciation to Dr. Helen Misenheimer, the Commencement Committee, and other faculty members, administrators, and students who contributed their time and assistance in making this graduation ceremony possible.

Editor's Note

With the close of the 1979-80 school year comes the publication of another Echo and yet another comment from the editor. (And since said editor is tired, she will be brief and to the point.) The year was a good one, it passed quickly, and this book could not do justice to G.C.'s many highs and lows. For that shortcoming I apologize; but somehow we managed to survive late nights in the office drawing layouts, long hours in the darkroom processing film, spoiled photographs, missed deadlines — all of the desperate, frustrating moments — in order to see our way clear to the productive, final moments.

I may not know until several years from now whether or not this undertaking was worthwhile; regardless, I can state that I have learned unforgettable lessons about people in general and about myself. I am grateful for that opportunity.

So, students, reflect, ponder, and cherish the memories of G.C. which are spread before you on these pages. After all, you are the college — her past, her present, and her future. Remember, live, and dream with her in mind.

Ellyn J. Tucker
Editor
